

OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY INTERNSHIPS NEEDED!

You, as an industry leader, have the opportunity to give back to our profession and, at the same time, benefit from the enthusiasm and up-to-the-moment educational experience of a soon to be graduate in occupational safety & health. The Internship experience! You get an eager safety student to work in your company without having to commit to a full-time position with all of the retirement benefits, etc. In this new economy...that's a plus for both the company as well as the student.

One of the greatest ways for an occupational safety student to gain real-world experience in our profession is through a practicum or internship experience with an employer. These internships are of paramount necessity to the successful completion of an academic degree and serve as a capstone for the Bachelor of Science in occupational safety & health but can only be attained through the generous support of employers.

With over 300 students in the BS and MS in occupational safety & health programs Southeastern Oklahoma State University is one of the largest occupational safety programs in the United States and its location just an hour north of Dallas/Ft. Worth puts it in a prime position to supply interns for the Metroplex. This is especially true for those companies seeking summer interns to help them in their occupational safety departments.

Can you help us? We need 25 new internships over the next year to help us satisfy our continuous flow of students reaching that junior/senior summer where we ask them to complete their practicum. If you would be willing to join our team, please contact Dr. Jones as soon as possible to set up an internship program with your company. He can be reached at:
